Additional Tips

- The Provider name, program title, and program dates should appear exactly the same on the certificate of completion as on the promotional materials.
- The program content description, learning objectives, presenters, and number of credit hours should appear exactly the same on the Program Information Form (page 3 of the SP application) as on the promotional materials.
- "The applicant may use “NBCC credit hours” only on proposed promotional materials submitted to NBCC. If an SP application has not been approved by NBCC, NBCC or NBCC approval may not be mentioned on the program materials that are being used to advertise the program to the public. If SP applicants want to advertise that they applied to offer CE credit to counselors, please use a statement similar to the following: “[CE provider name] is seeking approval to offer [program title] for continuing education credit. Please check back for updates.”
- The Provider is not required to make the information required by Policy Section C.15 available to the public in a complete and accurate manner in one location. Program promotional material may include references or links to other materials that are available to the public with more detailed information.
- When advertising CE credit, it must be in hours such as “credit hour” or “CE hour” to be consistent with Policy requirements. Do not use “CEU” or “continuing education units.” Policy Section I.1.
